Overview

Organising yourself has never been easier with the new range of Rexel Optima™ files. Find them faster, access their contents more easily, and keep your papers neat, secure and under control!

Description

Does your favourite list of activities include: organising paperwork, doing tax returns and ironing? Perhaps not. The Rexel Optima filing range helps you to get organised (even with tax returns), in a stylish, durable, and painless way.

The expander file has 13 separate compartments, together with multi-coloured tab insert labels, to help clearly define your different projects and activities; you could allocate one section to each month of the year and still have a spare for that all-important “miscellaneous” category. With a capacity of up to 500 sheets, it will take some filling up, but the hinged lid will give you full and quick access to the contents, whichever section you filed them in.

The robust polypropylene construction and free-standing base means that this file will not topple over, and will withstand everyday wear-and-tear, but is also portable when required. The funky expanding rubber strap helps to keep the hinged lid closed and keeps the contents secure.

Rexel
Works Beautifully

Forget fiddly labels, this expander file has a unique, printable and re-usable identification label, which means you can find and grab the right file in a hurry. This smart file (also available in black) will keep contents confidential, and not look out-of-place at home or at work.

No more excuses, together with other Optima filing products you can get that paperwork under control, and spend more time on the fun stuff.
